

Landing Page Hub — Skeleton

v1 · Architecture & section frame · May 2026

Twelve blocks, top to bottom. Backgrounds alternate Bone, Ink, and Putty across the page for visual rhythm. Sections 02 through 09 carry large Signal Orange section numerals — same grammar as the asset kit README. Every text element maps to one of three fonts: Archivo Black for headlines, Inter for body, IBM Plex Mono for eyebrows and metadata. Signal Orange caps at roughly 10% of any surface — accent words, CTA buttons, and section numbers only.

ARCHITECTURE RULES

- Backgrounds — Bone (#FBF8F1), Ink (#1A1A1A), Putty (#E8E2D3). Rotate by section.
- Type roles — Display = Archivo Black, ALL CAPS, tight tracking. Body = Inter. Mono = IBM Plex Mono, ALL CAPS, wide tracking.
- One-orange-word rule — In every headline, exactly one keyword is set in Signal Orange; the rest stays in Ink (or Bone on dark backgrounds).
- Section numbers — Body sections (02–09) carry oversized orange numerals beside their title — direct inheritance from the asset kit README.
- Wordmark — Header uses VPP_Wordmark_Horizontal.svg directly. Footer uses VPP_Mark_Knockout.svg + wordmark set in live Archivo Black.
